

WHO IS ANDI?

Andi has worked in the holistic, alternative field for over 25 years. She is a Certified Holistic Health Practitioner, a Certified Whole Health Educator and has a Master's degree in Peace & Humane Studies from the University of Maine. She has training in many aspects of alternative health including iridology, herbal medicine, complex homeopathy for hormone rejuvenation, colon hydrotherapy, and nutrition.

She is the founder of Bio HealthWorks Institute which offers dynamic courses for people trying to recover their health, as well as healthcare workers and practitioners who want to incorporate GNM/GHK with their patients and clients. In 2019, she co-founded GHK Global - the first professional organization for practitioners who use GHK/GNM with their clients. She designs and co-hosts the GHK Global annual summit and, along with her colleagues, Andi has helped grow the community around the world.

Andi has been instrumental at expanding the gifts Dr. Hamer discovered to the English-speaking international community. She collaborates with colleagues around the world including overseeing the editing of Dr. Hamer's original workshops into English.

Andi is an experienced educator, consultant and sought-after speaker with a passion for supporting GHK practitioners and teachers among us. She has a unique ability to communicate complex information in an easily-understood manner, and to inspire and motivate those around her.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

This is a wonderful course that takes very complex material and breaks it down into smaller pieces and assignments that make it fun and easy to learn. I feel much more comfortable with GNM and applying it after this course.

Erin Chandler, Nutritionist, CA

This course has been life-changing for me and for my clients. With the knowledge I learned here, I can continue to empower my clients to take full control of their healing and health beyond how I help them with acupuncture.

Whitney Maddon, Licensed Acupuncturist, Asheville, NC

If you've ever wondered "why" when helping clients achieve wellness this course is for you! The knowledge will benefit you and your clients.

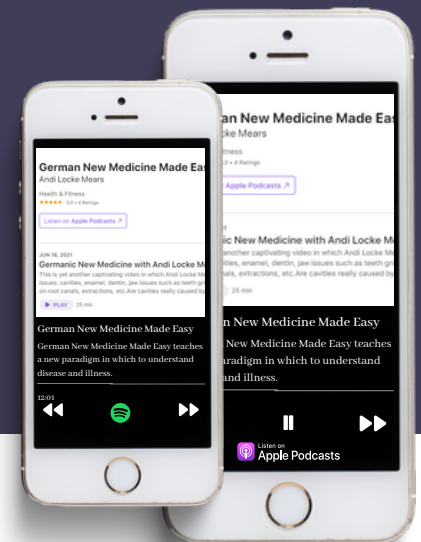

Sherry Rodan, ND, Stillwater, OK
